HOUNDS GET NO SCENT OF FARMER'S ASSASSIN

Murdered, Near His Nangemond County Home, Slight Clue Is Found to Slayers of T. G. Jones, a Prominent Citizen.

when it is expected developments of importance will startle the countryside. The bloodhounds, which were hastened to the scene, have failed to pick up a trail, despite the facts that many tracks were found in the field near Jones. Nansemond county is up in arms at the shooting, the motive behind, which, it is declared, was to keep Jones from the belief that two white men were seen in the vicinity before the shooting. The country authorities are working on the belief that the shooting was done by two persons, because of the fact that Jones was shot twice with a shotgun, and twice with a shotgun, and twice with a shotleffect in his mouth and the other in his head. His chest and stomach were perforated by a perfect fusilade from a shotgun. The tracks in the field disclosed but two pairs of feet.

Jones, it is said, died in great agony, and declared on his deathbed that he

Albert Belote, Formerly in Canal Board Service, Before

Magistrate.

Albert Belote, forty-five years old, of 631 G street southwest, formerly an employe of the Panama Canal Commission and re-engaged, appeared in court this morning charged with habitual drunkenness. Until he was thirty-two years of age Belote was prominently connected with church work, and at one time ed with church work, and at one time was superintendent of the Sunday school which his children attended. Then his son was drowned and, as Belote himself explained, he tood to drink. In testifying Belote said: "Gods knows I love my wife and daughter, and if you let me off this time, judge, I'll promise to quit drinking." The court was inclined to leniency. In case $500 bonds are secured he will be released. Otherwise he must serve six months, but will be released when his new appointment reaches him.

SUFFOLK, Va., Oct. 28.—No trace has yet been found of the assassins, who ambushed and brutally murdered T. G. Jones, a prominent citizen of Holland, as he was returning to his home Monday night. Police and bloodhounds are scouring all of Nansemond county, but so far without avail.

Several important clews are in the possession of the authorities, it is said but those, if reliable, are being kept secret. After a secret session, the Coroner's jury adjourned until tomorrow, when it is expected developments of importance will startle the countryside. The bloodhounds, which were hastened the names of two men whom he thought to be his assassins, and working on this information, as well as that gleamed from the secret session of the coroner's jury, the authorities before nightfall. late this afternoon at the second session of the Philadelphia branch of the Woman's Board of Missions. The Philadelphia, charged with desertion from the Philadelphia branch of the Philadelphia branch of the Philadelphia, charged with desertion from the Post of the Philadelphia branch of the Woman's Board of Missions. The phia, charged with desertion from the thirty-eighth annual meeting of the navy, Mrs. Ada Gorman-Magness, faboard is being held today in Mt. Pleas- vorite daughter of the late Maryland Senator, seems to be entirely without But two changes will be made in the aid or advice from her influential fampersonnel of the list of officers. These will be Miss Alice Clark, who will be gle-handed struggle.

Mrs. Magness, now staying friends in this city, went to Philadel-phia yesterday to see her husband, rephia yesterday to see her husband, returned last night. State Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, her brother, whom Mrs. Magness said Monday she hoped would help her in her troubles, spent the day and night in Washington, but did not call at the Navy Department in behalf of his sister's husband, nor did he make any appeal by letter for leniency. At the department today, it was said that the only request for clemency received so far was from the wife herself, which would indicate that Mrs. Magness has failed to win the aid of her family.

Truesdell, to which Miss Bridges responded. The address at the morning session was made by Miss Helen B. Calder, of Boston, on "The Vital Spirit in Missions." Miss Calder pointed out the effectiveness of one worker's efforts in influencing another to do the same. She said one conversion always inspfred that convert to bring another within the fold and this spirit, she asserted, was the vital influence in the work of missions all over the world.

The chief feature of business was the presentation of reports by Mrs. J. V. Fielding, executive committee; Miss Emma Fiavell, treasurer, and Mrs. L. H. Demorest, treasurer. Luncheon was served at noon.

Object of Meeting.

The sessions will continue through the afternoon, and at 8 o'ciock tonight there will be a service in charge of the Rev. M. Ross Fishburn, pastor of the church, followed by an illustrated lecture by W. H. H. Smith.

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Undaunted by an accident that marked his first flight, Frank J. Heinfeld, a new Dayton aviator, will repeat his experiments with his aeroplane, he announced today.

When his air craft fell, while he was making a flight at a height of twenty feet, Heinfeld escaped with slight bruises, a tree breaking his fall. The feet, Heinfeld escaped with slight bruises, a tree breaking his fall. The right wing of the machine was broken off.

The inventor had flown 150 feet when the accident occarred. The aeroplane is being reconstructed. Heinfeld's flying machine differs from the Wright brothers in that one propeller is in front and the other behind the craft. Both propellers on the Wright machine are located in the back of the machine.
